A HOME TOWN PAPER FOR HOME TOWN PEOPLE

VOL. XXVII

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1920.

NO. 31

OFFICIALS WILL HAVE CLEAR FIELD

JUDGE BUCK, JOHN MacBAIN, AND JOSEPH FRANCIS WILL HAVE NO OPPOSITION; M. B. JOHNSON AND F. L. EKSWARD UNOPPOSED

The time for candidates to file nomination papers expired last Thursday, and it now appears that several officials will have no opposition at the August primary. Among these fortunate ones is Judge George H. Buck of the superior court. Judge Buck has held this office for thirty years and has given eminent satisfaction.

When the time for filing nomination papers for the August primaries expired last Thursday, it was found that Judge George H. Buck, who has honored the superior court of San Mateo county for the past thirty years, will have no opposition. Judge Buck is conceded to be one of the ablest jurists in California. He is held in the highest esteem by the legal fraternity of California. He was unanimously endorsed for re-election by the San Mateo County Bar Association, which is composed of all the practicing attorneys of the county. His return to office each succeeding term by big majorities attests his popularity among the people of San Mateo county.

John MacBain, supervisor of the Third township and present chairman of the board, will also be unopposed for re-election. MacBain has served his second consecutive term as supervisor and a previous term, and has made an excellent official, as well as a splendid presiding officer. Joseph Francis of Halfmoon Bay will again be returned to the office of supervisor of the Fourth township without opposition. No person on the coast-side or in the entire county is held in higher esteem than genial Joe Francis. His gradual improvement in health is the source of much happiness to his many friends.

Mrs. Rosalie M. Brown is making an active campaign for re-election to the office of supervisor from the Second township, to which position she was appointed by Governor Stephens upon the death of her husband, William H. Brown. She must now be elected to complete the last two years of the term. She is opposed by W. D. Shawhan, retired merchant of San Mateo.

Thomas L. Hickey of South San Francisco, who was elected supervisor from the First township four years ago, will have an opponent at the August primary in John F. Fahey, farmer of Salada. Hickey has given his district and the county an efficient administration and his friends are predicting his re-election.

M. B. Johnson of Montara will have clear sailing for re-election to the office of state senator from the Eighth district. He has both the Republican and Democratic nomination. Frank L. Eksward has also two tickets, Republican and Democratic, to insure his safe journey back into the assembly from the Forty-second district.

SHORTRIDGE MEETING TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

The local committee in charge of the campaign work of the Shortridge Club has called a meeting for next Wednesday night. The meeting will be held at the city hall, and as plans will be discussed that are vital to the interests of Mr. Shortridge's campaign in this territory, it is desired that there be a large attendance.

LADIES' AID FOOD SALE.

The Ladies' Aid will hold its monthly food sale at Carmody's grocery store Saturday. Mrs. E. Coffinberry and Mrs. C. E. Stahl will have charge.

COMMERCE CHAMBER AFTER GAMBLERS

Hears Charges Against Poolrooms and Starts Movement for a General Cleanup.

Is gambling going on in South San Francisco? If it is, the Chamber of Commerce wants to know why it is allowed.

The subject was brought up at Tuesday night's meeting of the Chamber. It was represented to the members assembled that gambling was carried on in this city almost openly, that no attempts to curb the evil were being made, and that youths 17 years old or even younger were admitted freely to the gambling houses and usually emerged minus most of their week's or month's wages. Specific cases were cited where young men who formerly brought most of their wages home to their families were now leaving the greater part in these gambling joints. Most of the gambling, it was stated, is being carried on in locked rooms in the rear of poolrooms. It was the unanimous opinion of the members present that if gambling exists in this city as claimed, drastic steps should be taken to suppress it. Efforts are to be made by the Chamber to get the support of other organizations in the effort against the alleged gambling.

A communication was presented by W. J. Martin from a large manufacturing firm in the East, which is looking for a location in this region. A motion was passed that P. R. Thompson be allowed to communicate with the firm in the name of the Chamber and set forth to its officials the advantages of locating its plant in South San Francisco.

It was brought to the attention of the members that Friday, August 6th, was the date set for the hearing of the suit brought by the Chamber of Commerce against the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, and Western Pacific railroads to force the railroads to include this city within the switching limits of San Francisco. The case will be heard before the Railroad Commission in the Flood building, and it was desired that the Chamber send a delegation from this city to be present.

It was voted to pay $5 toward the prizes or souvenirs to be given all babies presented for examination at the baby show at the local Red Cross health center next week.

IN THE COURT OF JUSTICE W. J. SMITH

Frederick Earl Sharenkrach of San Francisco appeared before Judge Smith Tuesday morning and delivered up $25 for shooting rabbits out of season. Game Warden Jack Burke was the complaining witness.

A. T. Gibson of 325 Thirteenth street, Oakland, was taken up July 18th for speeding and notified to appear in court. A citation also failed to make him put in an appearance, and a warrant was issued for his arrest Tuesday. County Traffic Officer Leland Bond was the officer bringing the charge. When Mr. Gibson appears he will have considerable explaining to do.

Judge Smith held court in the city hall at San Bruno Wednesday morning, the case being Jack Dennis and James Casey of Colma vs. Joseph Ugaratti and Anibale Padradinni. Dennis and Casey, who sold a lease on a ranch near Portuguese Hill, together with some hogs and a swill route, sued for some barley flour, a pile of bones, and 600 feet of pipe left on the premises. The defendants claim the property was included in sale. The case was taken under advisement.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Alfonso Acuna on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper. The complainant is A. C. Vanderwoort, formerly of the Ship Hotel.

Tom Becker was a visitor in town this week.

WESTERN MEAT PICNIC ENJOYED BY THROG

One Thousand Persons Take Trip to Woodside on Company Employees' Fourth Annual Reunion.

Woodside, San Mateo county, was placed on the map last Sunday when nearly one thousand people gathered amidst its sylvan shades to celebrate the fourth annual reunion of the Western Meat Company employees.

No finer spot could have been selected, and the weather was delightful. Under the ancient oaks with their heavy branches spreading out umbrella-shaped an orchestra was seated dispensing popular melodies. About a hundred feet distant a running stream of cool, clear water became the mecca for the kids and to them one of the grandest features of the picnic.

Across the street in Independence Hall another orchestra furnished the dance music and attracted a full house throughout the day.

At noon barbecued beef was served with buns and coffee, and a glorious feast resulted.

The transportation arrangements to the picnic were one of its most novel features. From all points in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Francisco, San Jose, and San Mateo county the employees and their friends were assembled at certain spots and transported to the picnic grounds by the company's fleet of auto trucks and taken home again in the evening. All the trucks moved on schedule, and in spite of the fact that it was Sunday with heavy automobile traffic on the highways, not a single accident or breakdown marred the day's pleasure. The baseball game was won by the San Francisco team, while the hard-pulling team from the Oakland branch house won the tug-of-war from the plant team after an exciting pull of fifteen minutes. All the other athletic events were strongly contested.

SO. S. F. MAN ASKS $11,689 FOR INJURIES TO WIFE

H. D. Doherty of South San Francisco, through his attorney, Franklin Swart, has brought suit for damages against Albert O'Malley in the sum of $11,689.75, for injuries alleged to have been received by the plaintiff's wife, Mrs. Miriam Doherty, when she was run into by a motorcycle driven by the defendant on Grand avenue, South San Francisco, July 26, 1920. The complaint states that as a result of her injuries, Mrs. Doherty has been made a cripple for life.

GIVEN SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF VAGRANCY

Ed Bramer, arrested in South San Francisco Tuesday, was taken before City Recorder J. J. Dowd on a charge of vagrancy. The arrest was made by Marshal Conrad, who had previously ordered the man to leave town. He was given sixty days in the county jail.

INDICATIONS ARE FOR MANY BABIES AT SHOW

One Hundred Babies Now Registered and More in Prospect; Doctors Announce Attendance.

Plans for Child Welfare Week are about complete. Nearly one hundred babies are now registered. Mothers are urged to present all children under school age to be examined, weighed and measured. Each child examined will receive a souvenir.

The directors have arranged the following schedule of attendance:

Dr. Doherty—Monday and Friday mornings, 10 to 12 o'clock.
Dr. Irvine—Tuesday and Saturday mornings, 10 to 12 o'clock.
Dr. Doak—Wednesday and Friday mornings, 10 to 12 o'clock.

Besides the doctors, there will be nurses and members of the committee in attendance.

At a meeting of the committee last week it was planned to make Child Welfare Week an annual event. Records will be kept of all children examined, and each year prizes will be given to the children making the greatest advance in physical development.

After Child Welfare Week there will be a weekly conference, to which mothers may bring their young children. Doctors and nurses will be in attendance to advise mothers as to methods of care to keep their children well. Plans for these well-baby conferences will be announced later.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER FOR MANUEL TOBASH

Twelve San Mateo county men in service during the recent war received citations or decorations for distinguished service, according to a statement just issued by Genevieve Ambrose, secretary of the war history department of the California Historical Survey Commission.

Among those decorated is Manuel Tobash of South San Francisco, who received the Distinguished Service Order.

TWO WHO STEAL CAR IN PORTLAND ARRESTED HERE

Two men giving the names of Bertley and Curtis were arrested at the Depot Garage Tuesday on a charge of having stolen a Chandler car in Portland, Ore. The two men had kept the car at the Depot Garage while working at the Shaw-Batcher shipyard. The two were away for several days while local officers who had spotted the car waited for them. Tuesday they appeared for their car. On being notified by Fred Lautze, proprietor of the garage, that they were back for the car, City Marshal Conrad arrived on the scene and placed the two under arrest. They were turned over to San Francisco officers, who had a warrant from Portland for their arrest.

E. C. Peck spent the week-end at Summer Home Park.

SO. S. F. WOMAN CAPTURES THE BIG PRIZE

CONTEST JUST CLOSED BY THE ENTERPRISE AND NORTH END
PROGRESS VERY SUCCESSFUL;
SUBSCRIPTIONS DOUBLED.

MARY DI VITA
South San Francisco

Winner of prize "Baby Grand" Chevrolet touring car in Enterprise-North End Progress automobile contest, just closed. It took energy; it took perseverance, and it took friends. She possesses all these and is to be commended.

The Enterprise-North End Progress' big automobile prize contest is over, and the strain that every one connected with the affair has been under during the past few weeks is happily relieved. It was a strenuous time all around, and an anxious one to be sure, but now the race is over and the results announced, every one is pleased and satisfied.

Naturally the greatest struggle was for the splendid new 1920 model "Baby Grand" Chevrolet touring car, worth $1500—the grand capital prize. This newspaper offered the very best obtainable. We were willing to pay liberally for good work, and we got it, for never before in this section of the state has there been such a successful campaign as the one just closed by this newspaper.

The aggregate vote totals reached enormous figures, representing hundreds and hundreds of new subscribers and advertising and job printing accounts. As a result, The Enterprise and North End Progress now cover the north end of San Mateo county like a blanket, the kind of circulation that does advertisers the most good.

To these new readers, and our old patrons as well, whose interest and patronage made this contest the great success it proved to be, this newspaper is indeed grateful and indebted. On behalf of the candidates, and the paper itself, the public is entitled to the most sincere thanks for the general interest and good will shown them during the campaign.

As to the winners: The figures above speak for themselves. To those whose energy has carried them through this campaign to success, this newspaper extends the heartiest congratulations. We are proud of the candidates who took part in this competition, and we hope they, in turn, will be proud of their prizes.

While the prizes themselves were remarkable for their value, there are other considerations to be taken into account. During this campaign those who have participated have learned much that will be of life-long benefit to them. They have made new and pleasant acquaintances. They have formed more correct ideas along business lines, and most of them have developed a sense of observation that

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN CAPTURES PRIZE.

The competition has been a splendid training and a valuable experience. It has taught, among other things, that courage and perseverance are the two most essential elements necessary to overcome the obstacles that beset one through life.

Of course it was inevitable that all candidates could not win first prize. That was understood at the beginning of the race. Right or wrong, civilization has accepted and applied nature's rule of "the survival of the fittest." To accomplish most purposes worth while a great amount of energy is necessary, and fortune lavishes her richest gifts on those best equipped to carry out the mandates of ambition.

In conclusion, we wish to say that our relations with all the candidates have been very pleasant indeed. They, in turn, have dealt with an organization that, to the best of its ability, made the contest one long to be remembered for its wholesome character and fair dealings. It was a great race, and it leaves in bold relief that cardinal virtue—squareness.

Under lock and seal the ballot box remained in the office of the Cunningham Land Company, 214 Linden avenue, South San Francisco, during the entire last week of the race. At 8 o'clock sharp—right on the dot—the contest was declared closed. Immediately thereafter, in the presence of the candidates and all other interested parties, the judges canvassed the findings in the box.

Awards were made, under the rules announced at the beginning of the campaign, according to the statement above.

trustees any evening to rearrange the lighting system of San Bruno. Wednesday evening of next week was set for the inspection trip.

An inventory of city property was accepted and ordered filed.

A communication was received from the Municipal Improvement Company, stating it will have all of its property removed within a few days.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet with the engineer as soon as he receives a permit from the State Highway Commission for the paving to be done in San Bruno Park and First addition.

At the Yeomen's whist party held last Tuesday evening at Carpenter's Hall, the following players won the prizes: Mr. Russell, Miss Sievert, J. Arney, Mrs. Osborne, Miss Gladys Beckner, and Mrs. Frank Smith. A good crowd attended. Soon after the game began the lights went out. Lamps were procured from neighbors and the game progressed in the gloaming, which but added to the good time.

The Yeomen are anticipating a fine time at their celebration of the "Darkeys' Fourth" next Tuesday evening.

VISIT FACTORY DISTRICT.

On Wednesday Mrs. Lindsey and eleven little girl members of her Sunday school class enjoyed a pleasant day hiking through the factory district of South San Francisco and then to the beach beyond the factories, where a picnic lunch was served.

INSTALLATION SERVICE FOR LEAGUE OFFICERS

Epworth League officers for the coming year were formally installed and instructed in their duties at the conclusion of the regular services at the Community Methodist Church Sunday evening. A large attendance marked the ceremony.

Following a discourse on "Upward Spirals," in which he denied the accuracy of Emerson's "get-nowhere or circle philosophy," the pastor, Rev. Del Norte Winning, pointed out the privilege and necessity for forward movement on the part of the Christian young people of San Bruno.

The officers for the following year are: President, Herbert Beckner; spiritual department, Miss Florence Reid; world evangelism, Miss Mabel Wright; social service, Miss Gladys Beckner; recreation and culture, Miss Claire Forster; secretary, Miss Bella Beaton; treasurer, William Paul.

FIREMEN LOST GAME SUNDAY TO VISITING BALL TEAM

The firemen's ball team was defeated by the Apex Clubs last Sunday by a score of 5 to 3. The game was well played with the exception of the second inning, when several errors and a hit gave the Apex Club five runs. San Bruno scored three in its half of the second. The opponents had no chance to score for the rest of the game. San Bruno had several chances with two on and two gone, but the needed hit was not forthcoming. Lack of hitting and team work spelled defeat for the local aggregation, who do not practice through the week.

CENTER CLUB DANCE IS VERY SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

An enjoyable time was had by all who attended the barn dance given by the Center Club in California Hall last Saturday evening.

Hay and straw were piled in one end of the hall and an arch of straw was constructed in the rear of the hall.

Good music was furnished by a South San Francisco orchestra. The dance was a pronounced success, financially and every other way.

FIREMEN PLANNING DANCE FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 7

In these columns last week the date of the big dance to be given by the San Bruno firemen was given as August 17th. This was a mistake, as the date should have read August 7th.

The big affair will be held at Carpenter's Hall, and there is every indication that there will be a big attendance. A good five-piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, which insures real "jazzy" music. The object of the dance is to raise funds to buy equipment for the firemen's baseball team.

BIG GAME HUNTING AFFORDS UNIQUE PROGRAM

Forst-like decorations, dimmed lights and the social hall of the Community Methodist Church offered the setting for a well-chaperoned hunting party from Dixie Land to Africa last Friday evening. The retiring cabinet of the Epworth League set a new standard for original entertainments when they outlined this program, which including hunting everything from coon to tiger, and later, hunter's rations.

Two hunting parties were formed, one under the leadership of James Christy and the other under the direction of William Paul. To the party bringing in the largest number of "pelts" at the smallest cost was to be awarded a "hammered silver loving cup." The party conducted by William Paul proved to be the more ex-

Since his election to the bishopric Dr. Leonard has been named as world president of the Epworth League, and was sent by the Methodist Church to establish its university in Rome. Not only preacher and scholar, he is author as well, having published two of his books this year, one of them

ABOUT THE CONTEST.

On the front page of today's issue of The Enterprise will be found the story of the result of the big automobile contest just closed by this paper. Embodied in it is a message from the manager of the contest to the public and to the contestants. The editor of this paper has reserved editorial space to convey his own message to our readers and to those who worked hard for the prizes offered.

The contest was very successful from the point of view of the two newspapers involved. The circulation of The Enterprise was boosted to a point where it can truthfully claim the largest circulation of any San Mateo county newspaper, and that by a wide margin. At the same time the North End Progress of Daly City emerges from the contest with a substantial subscription list more than double that of any local competitor. The two papers cover the north end of San Mateo county thoroughly, a circulation that will make them the best of all advertising mediums in their field.

One of the happiest circumstances connected with the contest is that at its close the editor of the two papers can say truthfully: "We have kept the faith." At the outset all contestants were assured of honest, impartial treatment, and that is exactly what each received from the first day to the last. In spite of the insinuations of the doubtful and the sneers of the envious, the contest proved to be absolutely on the square, nobody "bought" a prize, and the winner of the splendid big car, the capital prize, did so by sheer pluck, perseverance, and hard work. To the winner of the first prize as well as to each of the other candidates and also to every one of the many, many friends of those candidates who helped them, the editor and publishers of the two papers wish to extend the most sincere thanks. To the new friends and subscribers the papers have won we wish to say, every effort will be made to give you a local paper that you may be proud to admit to your home, a paper whose weekly visits will be looked forward to and welcomed.

A word as to Contest Manager S. J. Liner. From the first day of the contest to the last we found him very much the gentleman, kindly and courteous, and also, and this is much more important, absolutely "on the square." We learned to repose the fullest faith in Mr. Liner, as did the candidates, and never once did he disappoint us. It was with the most sincere regret that we bade him good-by. It is quite likely that in the course of another year or two we may hold another similar contest, and if we do we shall certainly try to have Mr. Liner again on the job.

SABOTAGE!

As this paper was going to press this morning there was brought into the office a card, similar to hundreds of others found scattered about the Schwabacher shipyard this morning. Here it is:

"BROS. AWAKE!

"The A. F. L. Unions are now a thing of the past.
"Our capitalist employer thinks he can destroy us as he did his own A. F. L. Unions.
"The whistle we have been waiting for so long to blow is almost ready.

"ARE YOU?

"WHEN YOU ARE LEAVING SEE THAT NO MAN can operate your machine WHILE WE ARE GETTING JUSTICE.
"O. B. U."

This is sabotage of the reddest, rankest kind. It is an outrage on decent, self-respecting labor. It is the kind of thing that is keeping the world in a turmoil and making life a nightmare for employer and employee alike. The persons responsible for the printing of those cards and those who distributed them are traitors to their country and their brother workmen. Short shrift and a long rope are their desserts.

Every normal girl has roseate dreams of the time when she will become a wife and a mother. But time, with some, transforms the dream of bliss into a nightmare of reality.

But why all of this fuss over campaign slush funds? Can a fellow who wants to become president afford to be less of a spender than the people who elect him?

We are all firm believers in the right of every man to vote his own sentiments. But of course his views should coincide with ours in order to be sound and logical.

If the price of news print continues to advance we may soon be printing this paper on twenty-dollar bills or twelve-inch boards. It's a merry life.

It may be true that money is the root of all evil. But if so, there's consolation in knowing that we are all tarred with the same brush.

In Uruguay there is one automobile to every 148 persons. In this country the summer pedestrian is of the opinion that it is just the reverse.

In the sunny days of summer the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love—and the high cost of loving turns it off again.

It requires an egg to hatch a bird and it takes a bird to lay an egg. Now which was the Eve of its species—the egg or the bird?

If a girl can get herself engaged often enough she can annex a considerable quantity of jewelry before taking the final plunge.

It is best to let others tell the story of your virtues. If you tell them yourself you will not be believed.

It's easier to tell others how to run their business than it is to run your own—but not so profitable.

All men have minds of their own, but some rent them out to others for a price.

Many people destroy what popularity they have by angling for more.

Many foolish men know all things. A few wise ones know a little.

It is true, however, that some civil engineers are not always civil.

The price of the presidency, like everything else, is going up.

The world is full of wise men—in their own estimation.

CONTESTANTS THANK FRIENDS WHO HELPED IN CONTEST

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many friends who helped me in the recent contest. Without your aid I could not have won the fine automobile, and I am deeply grateful.

MRS. MARY DI VITA.

I wish to thank all my friends and acquaintances who helped me in the contest just closed by this paper. If it had not been for their help I would have been unable to receive the beautiful prize I did.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

CANNING STRING BEANS.

Plenty of string beans in jars in the store closet means that the basis for innumerable salads and vegetable side dishes is at the housekeeper's command all during the winter months, so when this vegetable is at its best in the garden or on the market the wise woman cans enough for use when it is out of season.

Select small, tender wax or green beans for canning purposes. Beans which have grown within the pod to any size are difficult to can, and the resulting product is not as satisfactory as one from younger beans. The sooner the beans are in the jar after picking the better the flavor and the more certain they are to keep. Wash, string, and cut off the ends of the beans. Whole beans may be canned or they may be cut in short lengths. Those cut diagonally are attractive in appearance.

Fill Jars With Hot Brine

Place the beans in a wire sieve or in cheesecloth and blanch (scald) in hot water or live steam for from three to five minutes, or until the pod will bend without breaking. On removal, drain well and pack into hot jars which have been boiled for fifteen minutes. On the jars place rubbers which have been boiled in a solution of 1 tablespoon of soda to 1 quart of water.

Cover beans with a hot brine made from 4 level tablespoonfuls of salt to 4 quarts of boiling water. Put on top which has been boiled 15 minutes. With glass-top jars put one wire ball in position. Make screw tops about half tight. Processing beans under steam pressure is recommended. Quart jars should be processed 45 minutes under pressure of 10 pounds. With a hot-water canner or with a home-made canner made out of a wash boiler or lard can process the jars three hours if the one-period procedure is used. Make sure the water is boiling before starting to count time. When boiled, tighten the covers and cool.

If the intermittent boiling procedure is used, boil for 1 hour on three successive days. Before each boiling loosen the covers. Tighten covers after each boiling. When the processing is finished, lift the jars from the canner. Cool in a spot free from drafts; test, and store. In event of leakage when jar is tested, remove rubber, put on new, wet, boiled one, and process 15 minutes more.

Vinegar Aids in Preventing Spoilage

During the past year the Home Economics Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with the addition of a small amount of acid—vinegar—to nonacid vegetables being canned. This work is being continued, and the results thus far indicate that 1 to 4 tablespoonfuls of vinegar added to a quart jar help greatly in reducing the amount of spoilage. When the vinegar is added, the time of processing can be reduced. For instance, it is found that corn, which ordinarily is difficult to can successfully, keeps well when 4 tablespoonfuls of vinegar are added to a quart jar processed 3 hours continuously. String beans, old peas, and spinach are other vegetables successfully canned by this method.

The addition of vinegar to canned vegetables in the amounts mentioned modifies to some degree the natural flavor of the vegetable, but the result is not objectionable to most people and in many instances is not noticed.

PUBLIC HEALTH HINTS.

Whooping Cough Prevalent

Reports of the widespread prevalence of whooping cough come to the State Board of Health from many sources, although the reports received from health officers do not show any very great increase. It is important that cases of whooping cough be reported, as required by law, and health officers should take steps to secure such reports from physicians who may be delatory in the matter. All children, but especially very young children, should be protected against this disease. Most deaths from whooping cough occur during the first year of life. Because of the fact that the disease may be communicated during its late stages and during convalescence it is particularly difficult to

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. control. Every case of the disease should be promptly isolated. Children should be guarded against whooping cough as zealously as against diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox or any other communicable disease. It is much more dangerous than any one of them.

Saving Persons From Drowning

During the vacation period a large number of deaths from drowning occur in California. Many of these deaths might be prevented if rescuers knew and practiced the simple rules for producing artificial breathing.

Amusement and Recreation

The present mania for moving pictures, prize-fights, and football games shows the tendency of modern life to seek for passive amusement rather than active recreation, but for the majority of people some form of active recreation is better. For the person who works under the direction of some one else, recreation should be active. "The crime of this age is the waste of leisure time." Swimming, tennis, golf, baseball, and boating are ideal active sports.

Untreated Diphtheria

Throughout the country an increase in the number of cases of diphtheria is observed. Also many of these are fatal. Early use of antitoxin in large doses and rest during convalescence are necessary. Absence of these fundamental elements in the treatment causes many deaths. This is especially true in the practice of those who consider diphtheria due to an error of diet or thought. Three little children in San Jose died of this error last week. It is about time that non-medical practitioners classified diphtheria with surgical injuries as the proper sphere for a doctor.

Some people are so fond of newspaper publicity they are willing to have even their escapades aired in order to get it. No, none of the breed in this town.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practice to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Dathus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

NOTIZIE DALLA CONTEA IN ITALIANO.

MAGNIFICO RISULTATO FINALE DELLA GARA PER L'AUTOMOBILE

Come venne annunciato nell'ultimo numero di questo giornale, sabato scorso ebbe luogo lo scrutinio generale dei voti che i contestanti si guadagnarono durante la gara indetta dal "The Enterprise" di South San Francisco e dal "North End Progress" di Daly City.

Il contesto fu un vero successo per i due giornali. Il "The Enterprise" aumentò enormemente la sua circolazione sorpassando di gran lunga tutti gli altri giornali della Contea di San Mateo, e contemporaneamente fu creato il "North End Progress" per Daly City mettendolo in posizione di poter continuare la sua pubblicazione con una discreta circolazione.

I due giornali ringraziano infinitamente tutti coloro che vollero aiutare i contestanti nel loro lavoro per accaparrare i milioni di voti, e tanto l'editore quanto il pubblicista si sentono molto obbligati verso i cittadini italiani per il loro aiuto dato in questa occasione, e si augurano che le più cordiali relazioni continuino fra i due giornali ed i loro nuovi lettori italiani.

La Signora Mary Di Vita fu la vincitrice del primo premio; la bella automobile "Chevrolet." Essa lo vinse lavorando indefessamente. Lavoro con tenacia e col deliberato proposito di vincere. E vinse, e con lei ci congratuliamo per la sua impareggiabile perseveranza.

La Signorina Viola Hein vinse il secondo premio; la gita di piacere al Yellowstone Park. La Signorina Violet Ver Linden vinse il terzo; un anello con diamante del valore di 125 dollari. Il quarto premio fu vinto dalla Signorina Evelyn Pettingell; un bel fonografo dal valore di 100 dollari, mentre la Signorina Mabel Whitten e Paul Ledwith vinsero rispettivamente 50 e 25 dollari in contanti.

IL GRANDE "PICNIC" DELLA "WESTERN MEAT COMPANY"

L'abilità organizzatrice degli ufficiali della "Western Meat Company" è cosa ormai nota a tutti. Annualmente questa compagnia organizza una festa campestre per i suoi operai e per la popolazione di South San Francisco in generale.

Il concorso a queste scampagnate è addirittura qualche cosa di straordinario e per quanto precedenti fossero gli organizzatori, alla fine devono sempre ricorrere a mezzi estremi.

Tutto è preparato. Il programma è la linea di condotta dei differenti sotto comitati. Tutto è prescritto e gli ordini sono impartiti precedentemente. Ogni incaricato deve eseguire il suo lavoro senza ulteriori comandi. L'unico comandante del giorno è l'orologio il quale non fa altro che marcare il tempo e l'ora dell'esecuzione del programma. Tutto deve procedere meccanicamente senza comandi di sorta. E' qui dove si nasconde il segreto del successo.

La scampagnata di domenica scorsa è stato un avvenimento che rimarrà immemorabile per la popolazione di South San Francisco. Immemorabile, dico, per due ragioni; prima, perché i giganti in numero così stragrande ebbero campo di godersi una bella giornata di sole ed aria libera sotto gli ombrosi alberi del "Woodside Park" che a South San Francisco non la goderebbero neanche se scampassero per dei secoli; in secondo luogo, perché i pochi rimasti a casa si sentirono così soli e desolati come se il paese fosse stato completamente evaquoato. Raramente si vedeva qualche persona per le vie durante la giornata e le automobili erano letteralmente scomparse dal paese.

La compagnia mise a disposizione dei giganti 22 dei suoi autocarri facendoli venire dalle sucursali di Oakland e di San Francisco. Si può dire senza timore di esagerare che quasi tutte le automobili del paese presero parte alla lunga carovana che si formò sulla strada statale sin dalle prime ore del mattino diretta al "Woodside Park."

Alle ore 9 arrivò il primo autocarro dei giganti, e fino alle ore 12 fu un continuo arrivare.

La sala da ballo fu subito aperta e le gentili e belle signorine e i giovanotti vi s'ingolfarono a capofitto nelle danze; mentre all'aperto sotto le ombrose e secolari querce una banda intonava le melodie delle più popolari canzoni.

Alle ore 12 fu distribuito il famoso e tradizionale "Barbecue" e tutti quanti gli fecero onore gustandolo saporitamente.

Alla 1:30 p. m. incominciò lo svolgimento del programma sportivo. Vi fu una partita a "Baseball" per i giovanotti che riuscì oltremodo interessante. In seguito vi fu la gara delle "Patate" per le donne e ragazze e quella delle "Scarpe" per i ragazzi. Tanto la corsa podistica per le donne quanto quella per gli uomini attirò l'attenzione generale; come pure attenzione generale è stata prestata alla gara del tiro della corda, dove per ben 15 minuti due squadre composte dai più forti e robusti uomini della comitiva dei giganti si computavano il premio. Tutti i vincitori furono premiati con buoni per mercanzia da ritirarsi alla fattoria della compagnia. All'ultimo furono estratti 10 numeri per i premi d'entrata e i fortunati tenitori dei 10 numeri furono premiati con un ordine di mercanzia del valore di 3 dollari.

Alle 5:30 p. m. fu incominciata la partenza alle ore 6:45 arrivava il primo autocarro in South San Francisco fra l'immensa gioia e allegria dei suoi occupanti.

Un avvenimento degno di nota fu la destrezza dimostrata del Sig. Walter McKerricher nel guidare il suo autocarro. Egli per quanto fosse partito molto più tardi degli altri autocarri in ambedue i viaggi di andata e ritorno, purtuttavia arrivò per primo sorpassando tutti anche le più veloci automobili che vi erano lungo la strada statale. Egli fece il tragitto in meno di un'ora.

BALLO DI BENEFICENZA CHE ATTIRERÀ MOLTO PUBBLICO

Vi sono tutte le probabilità che al ballo a beneficio di John Fischer, che verrà dato sabato sera in South San Francisco al "Fraternal Hall" sotto gli auspici delle tre fratellanze del "Red Men," "Woodmen," e degli "Eagles" attenderanno molte persone.

Il comitato incaricato per i preparativi a lavorare instancabilmente per assicurare al numeroso pubblico che si aspetta, tutto il miglior divertimento possibile.

Si annuncia pure che nella serata la nuova banda recentemente organizzata dalla locale loggia dei "Moose" apparirà per la prima volta in pubblico e terrà un concerto musicale sul palco che trovasi al canto di Maple e Grand avenues. In seguito, la banda dei "Moose" suonerà nel bassamento della sala da ballo, dove avrà luogo una ruffa di beneficenza.

con numerosi e vistosi premi.

Per l'occasione, il servizio tramviario sarà prolungato fino alle prime ore del mattino.

LA CAMERA DI COMMERCIO SI FA PROMOTTRICE DI UNA CAMPAGNA CONTRO IL GIUOCO

Alla riunione della Camera di Commercio di South San Francisco che ebbe luogo martedì sera nella sala del Consiglio Comunale furono discussi i provvedimenti da prendersi per frenare il continuo dilagarsi del giuoco d'azzardo che si dice sia praticato liberamente in quasi tutte le sale da biliardo del paese e che a questi giuochi vengono ammessi anche i ragazzi e giovanotti i quali, il più delle volte vi lasciano gran parte della loro paga.

Seduta stante fu pure deliberato d'invitare tutte le associazioni civiche a partecipare a questo movimento per abbattere il funesto vizio del giuoco che è la rovina di tanti giovanotti e di molte famiglie.

UNA NUOVA INDUSTRIA PER SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO?

La Camera di Commercio di South San Francisco è stata richiesta da una grossa compagnia dell'Est di riferire i vantaggi che può offrire la nostra città per una nuova grande industria.

La comunicazione in merito a tale richiesta è stata presentata e letta nella ultima riunione della Camera di Commercio la quale farà tutto quanto è nelle sue forze per far sì che detta compagnia abbia a fabbricare una fattoria in South San Francisco.

NUMEROSO PUBBLICO AL "PICNIC" DEL NIDO MARCONI

Domenica ebbe luogo al Lovchen Gardens l'annunciato "Picnic" del Nido Marconi No. 1787 dell'ordine degli "Owls" al quale vi attese numeroso pubblico proveniente da San Francisco e dalle altre città della baia.

A detta dei partecipanti fu una giornata allegria e tutti si divertirono immensamente.

RINGRAZIAMENTO.

La sottoscritta ringrazia infinitamente tutti coloro che gentilmente si offerse col loro aiuto nel coadiuvarmi durante la gara indetta dal presente giornale. In più si augura che tutti gli italiani abbiano a continuare a leggere il presente giornale l'unico portavoce della colonia italiana di South San Francisco e d'intorno.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

A HISTORY

The first political meeting in South San Francisco was held in the month of October, 1892. The Republican county central committee had secured the use of the Central Hotel building and the first floor was packed to the doors. The speaker of the evening was Hon. Jas. T. O'Keefe of Menlo Park, Republican nominee for assemblyman, who spoke, not so much for himself, as for the Republican party and for its candidates, from president down to township constable. It was a rousing good stump speech, a real vote-getting talk, and the entire audience responded to the many telling points made by the speaker.

One of the front benches was occupied by the late H. L. Kofoed and his wife, both ardent Republicans, and on that particular occasion they were the leaders, starting storms of applause, which shook the building. Jimmy O'Keefe carried the crowd that evening as he carried the town at the November election. He represented San Mateo county in the succeeding state assembly.

The year of 1892 saw the beginning of organized social, civil, and political life in South San Francisco; with a postoffice, a public school, a newspaper, a board of trade, a fire company, occasional social gatherings, a court of justice, and a jail.

That original jail stands today where it was originally constructed. It was built by William Rehberg and H. M. Jones. Mike Foley claims the credit of being the first occupant. Mike says Jones enticed him to enter and inspect the new lockup, and when they had reached the rear room Jones slipped out and turned the bolt. Mike, locked in, realized it was in reality a lockup. At the end of a half hour Mike obtained release only upon his solemn promise to "set 'em up for the boys."

In the course of time, however, the old "jug" held many a sure enough prisoner, and holds fearful secrets enough, if revealed, to extend this history beyond all bounds.

The most important event of the year 1892 in the life of this city was the beginning of its industrial life with the opening of the new and modern slaughtering and meat packing plant of the Western Meat Company. As it was the first unit in this city's splendid industrial system, and was at that time the first and only plant of its kind on the Pacific Coast, a somewhat detailed account of the opening day is not out of place in these reminiscences.

The Western Meat Company may be considered—and not improperly nor invidiously—as a "by-product" of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company. In fact, the Western Meat Company was not in existence on opening day, nor for more than a year thereafter. For the first fifteen months, the cattle and meat business at South San Francisco was carried on by the Land and Improvement Company, under the designation of "The Commercial Department" of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company. To be exact, the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company was incorporated February 18, 1891, and the Western Meat Company on the 19th day of March, 1894, upon which latter date the Land and Improvement Company conveyed to the Western Meat Company eighty acres of land, the stockyards, the slaughtering and meat packing plant, the markets, and all the cattle and meat business of the Land and Improvement Company.

A majority of the stock of both companies is owned by the multi-millionaire meat packers of Chicago. The control and direction of the parent company, on opening day, was held by Gustavus F. Swift and Nelson Morris of Chicago, both now deceased, and the control of both companies is today in the hands of their heirs and successors, Louis F. Swift and Nelson and Edward Morris of Chicago.

On December 5, 1892, the doors of the new meat packing plant were opened for business. Robert K. Patchell, coming from the big Chicago works of Swift & Co., took charge as superintendent. Mr. Patchell continued in charge until 1906, when he resigned to become a prosperous rancher of the Santa Clara valley near Morgan Hill. Mr. Patchell was succeeded by the present superintendent, Jesse O. Snyder, so the packing plant has changed superintendents but once in the twenty-eight years of its existence.

The killing floor was in charge of Frank McCarthy, a local man. James Brady, a Chicago man, was boss of the pens at the plant. Charles Weller was chief at the stockyards. William Dunwoody, an Omaha man, was the chief machinist. The cattle buyers were Sam Atkins, his son, Will Atkins, and Tom Fallon. Both the Atkins are with the Western Meat Company yet and Fallon is with the Cattle Loan Company.

The sheep butchers were Charles and Walter Reddy, who came to the company from Miller & Lux. Charles Reddy is at present superintendent for Miller & Lux at Butchertown; Walter Reddy died some seventeen years ago.

The cattle butchers were Thomas L. Hickey, Frank Green, and Tom O'Reilly, and they came to the new plant from Swift & Co. of Chicago. The first beef slaughtered was a cow, killed by Frank Green and dressed by Tom Hickey. Among the local cattle butchers at the plant on that day were John Peyton, who is now a resident of Oakland, and Al Kneirr of the firm of Kneirr, Allan & Pyle. Al Kneirr is now a wealthy stockman of Tulare county.

The pork and meat curing department was in charge of John Boyle, an Omaha man.

Charles Wackerman, who came from Chicago, was boss of the sausage department.

The lard, butterine, and fertilizer department was in charge of William McColm, at present a commission merchant in Colorado, and a relative of M. F. McColm, now with the Western Meat Company.

Frank Clawson and Val Dervin were at work in the plant on that opening day. Dervin is now a resident of San Francisco and Clawson is superintendent of a packing house at Fresno.

William McCuen (deceased) and his nephew, Howard Werner, were employed upon the plant buildings during construction and were among the workmen on that first day. Howard Werner is still with the company, the longest in service of any of its employees.

On that first day eighty head of cattle were killed and dressed, besides a large number of sheep and hogs. The employees on the killing floor the opening day were a miscellaneous lot. With the exception of a few expert butchers from Chicago, South Omaha, and from Miller & Lux, they were painters, carpenters, blacksmiths, and jacks-of-all-trades, and the Chicago veterans were highly amused to see these men, calling themselves butchers, at work. An incident of the day, which created a momentary excitement and which resulted in a painful injury to one man, will be remembered by the old-timers then and there present. A door to one of the pens had been by some means raised about eighteen inches from the floor. This door was regulated in raising and lowering by a counterweight. As one of the men passed the partially raised door a steer tried to horn him, and getting his horns under the door, threw it entirely up. The proverbial "bull in a china shop" was a tame affair compared with the panic and havoc that wild steer wrought on the killing floor. In the course of the melee an elderly man, named Converse, had two of his ribs broken by being pinned against a vat. The steer was finally dispatched.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

And how many homes do you own today? Recently a man came into our office that had decided years ago to apply his rent money toward the payment of a house. He soon rented the house to another fellow and his rent paid the balance on the house. He bought himself another one and another one, until today he owns several homes and has quit work. The rent money he now collects means a substantial income to him. The future is sure, bright and smiling for his wife and children.

Rent day never comes around to the man who owns his own Home.

A deed to your home is the best form of life insurance you can have.

We will build you a house to order, exactly as you plan it and upon a lot that suits your ideas. A small payment down and your rent money will pay for it. The man who owns his own home not only saves rent but makes money on the increased value in his property.

The civilized world of today and the donkeys within it are surely akin. Both are experts at progressing backward.

LARRY SEMON

Larry Semon, whose recent triumphs have impelled reviewers to style him "The New Comedy King," has risen to that coveted place by long training. Each stage in his career acted as a stepping stone to his great achievement. Perhaps he was born under a lucky planet. Anyway, he was fortunate enough to be the son of an actor and received an early training in magic, juggling and acrobatics. He mastered some of these arts before he had finished the third reader. After leaving school he traveled with his father and became more efficient in the art of entertaining.

Then followed the period in the newspaper business as cartoonist. This developed his creative ability and prepared him to write his own comedies. It also taught him to forsake the well beaten path and search in the byways for new material. A cartoonist must be original.

Thus, Larry Semon is perhaps the best qualified for the title of comedy king. All of his past experiences can be utilized upon the screen. He can resort to thrilling acrobatics where the average comedian is forced to use slapsticks. He is also adept in training animals and has a cat, monkey and six white mice that play difficult roles in his comedies.

During the three years previous to 1922, Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, has agreed to outlay $3,000,000 on Larry Semon in the production of 36 new comedies. "The Grocery Clerk," which is something different from the usual run of laugh makers, was the first film to be produced under the new contract. "Between the Acts," "Dew Drop Inn" and "The Head Walter" are some of Larry Semon's comedies that stand out prominent as being in a class by themselves.

If you want to march sedately through a crowd, with head erect, chest thrown out, eyes to the front, and the multitude falling over themselves to give you the right of way, just interview a skunk before you start. You'll go through.

Some one ought to tell congress the war is over. It's a burning shame to keep our dear senators and congressmen in ignorance of this fact all of these months.

After having reached the top of the ladder, some people become so disappointed with life they start right down again.

This victory gives Sharkey the championship of San Mateo county.

There was a large attendance at the fight, about 100 fans going down from South San Francisco.
